I. GENERAL INFORMATION

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1. Brazil Overview

Brazil is the largest country in both South America and Latin America. At 8.5 million square kilometers (3.2 million square miles) and with over 208 million people, Brazil is the world's fifth-largest country by area and the sixth most populous. The capital is Brasília, and the most populated city is São Paulo. It is the largest country to have Portuguese as an official language and the only one in the America, besides being one of the most multicultural and ethnically diverse nations, due to the strong immigration from various places in the world.

Bounded by the Atlantic Ocean on the east, Brazil has a coastline of 7,491 kilometers (4,655 mi). It borders all other South American countries except Ecuador and Chile and covers 47.3% of the continent's land area. Its Amazon River basin includes a vast tropical forest, home to diverse wildlife, a variety of ecological systems, and extensive natural resources spanning numerous protected habitats. This unique environmental heritage makes Brazil one of 17 megadiverse countries, and is the subject of significant global interest and debate regarding deforestation and environmental protection.

1.2. Brasilia Overview

Brasilia is the federal capital and political center of Brazil and the fifth most populous urban concentration in the country. It is the only modern city worldwide to be recognized as a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Based on an architectural project designed by Lucio Costa and the world-renowned Oscar Niemeyer, the city came to life in 1960 under President Juscelino Kubitschek. Built in just 1,000 days as the new capital, its level of modernity was shocking; even today the constructions still stand as world landmarks of architecture and urbanism.

Brasilia's population, which today exceeds 3 million, is a mix of people from regions all over Brazil, as reflected in the city's dynamic and vibrant culture. Brasilia, the third richest city in Brazil, is also an important economic hub of the country. Brasilia also sets the standard for green initiatives, with the government encouraging sustainable industries like software development, film production, and gemology.

1.3. International Airport

Brasilia International Airport (Code: BSB) is airport is conveniently located very close to downtown. The distance between the airport and to the Accreditation Center is 12 kilometers (20 minutes by car). Arrivals and departures at this airport will be supported by the LOC in the days predicted in this regulation.

Actually, Brasilia International Airport has a few companies operating direct international flights: Copa Airlines (Panama City), Latam Chile (Santiago), Latam Paraguay (Asuncion), Latam Peru (Lima). Flights coming from other city generally have connection in São Paulo (GRU Airport).

1.4. Weather

Historical average temperatures for Brasilia in September range from 15°-30°C.

1.5. Currency

The Brazilian currency is the Real, abbreviated as BRL. The USD/BRL exchange rate is approximately $1.00/R$5.60.

1.6. Electricity

The electricity standard in China is 220V (50Hz).

1.7. Telephone

To call China from abroad, dial +55 (country code) followed by 61 (city code), followed by the local number.

2. INTRODUCTION TO WORLD WUSHU CHAMPIONSHIPS

Hosted by the International Wushu Federation (IWUF), the World Wushu Championships (WWC) is the premier official international competition in wushu. This biennial event began in 1991, and sixteen editions have been held since then. The WWC consistently showcases the thrill and diversity of wushu, from the explosive full-contact sanda bouts to the dynamic movements and distinct weaponry in taolu competition. While the number of participating athletes and member federations has grown substantially as wushu expands globally, the WWC's purpose has, at its core, remained unchanged: to be the pinnacle of wushu competition.

The scale of the 17th WWC in Brasilia, Brazil will befit the significance of the event. From August 31st to September 8th, 2025, athletes from five continents are expected to compete in the city as the culmination of their hard work and preparation. The Brazilian Wushu Confederation, with the support of city of Brasilia, is responsible for organizing the 17th WWC under the auspices of the IWUF. The 42nd IWUF Executive Board Meeting and 17th IWUF Congress will be held on September 1st and 2nd respectively, in conjunction with the 17th WWC.

For more information on the 17th WWC, please visit the official website of the 17th WWC: www.17thwwc.com.br, also visit the official social media, Facebook, Instagram (IG), YouTube.
